Code of Conduct for Teacher

1. To demonstrate a deep commitment to the teaching profession, including a passion for imparting knowledge, facilitating learning and promoting academic excellence.
2. To uphold the highest standards of integrity, honesty, and professionalism in all aspects of teaching, research, and interactions with students, colleagues, and the community.
3. To treat all students with respect, dignity, and fairness, irrespective of their background, abilities, or personal characteristics. Foster an inclusive and supportive learning environment.
4. To recognize and respect the principles of academic freedom, allowing for free and open inquiry, critical thinking, and intellectual discourse within the boundaries of academic integrity.
5. To enhance pedagogical skills, employ effective teaching methods, and stay abreast of developments in the respective discipline to provide quality education.
6. To prioritize the well-being and holistic development of students, provide guidance and support, and create an environment conducive to their academic and personal growth.
7. To promote research integrity, adhere to ethical guidelines, and ensure proper attribution of sources in scholarly work. Encourage students to develop research skills and ethical practices.
8. To foster a culture of collaboration, cooperation, and collegiality by engaging in professional dialogue, sharing knowledge and resources, and supporting colleagues.
9. To respect and protect the privacy of students and maintain confidentiality of personal information in accordance with applicable laws and regulations.
10. To engage in ongoing professional development activities, such as attending workshops, conferences, and pursuing advanced degrees, to enhance teaching effectiveness and stay updated with the latest educational practices.
